

Timber is a natural material, colour variations can occur between products and over time.